William Brugh and Emma McBride

X4 1

William and Emma Brugh, after their marriage on March 30, 1873, lived on the farm of Catherine Brugh at Hudson, Indiana¢, for a period of 9 years, where William had spent the previous 17 years farming for his mother. To them there were born three children; Nellie, Jan. 2, 1875; Glen, Nov. 24, 1879; and Maude, Sept. 22, 1882. Emma over the years told her children many things about these years and how hard they all worked to care for the people who lived in that home. She said Catherine Brugh was a good Christian woman who daily read her German Bible. She was a loving mother, but a strict disciplinarian. William developed a combination of ague and asthma, largely caused from the swamp lands of Indiana. His doctor recommended to him that he move North into the hardwood lands and more sandy soils. Migration was popular in those days and the spirit of adventure high. William was 37 years old and Emma 26 when they made the decision to come north, Nellie was 7, Glen 2 and Maude 10 weeks old.

(ask [illegible] of that [illegible] [illegible])

In the Fall of 1882, they with another family named Zonker chartered a railroad car, packed their furniture, food, household things in one end; in the other end of the car they stored farm tools, live stock, etc, and the men rode in the car to feed and take care of the live stock. The women and children came by passenger train. Alfred Brugh, a brother came with them but returned to Indiana after a winter in northern Michigan. He worked for Hannah, Lay and Company in their office that winter, transferring their book keepking records into a new set up. Some of those records are in the museum at Traverse City this day. They all landed at Traverse City, and hauled themselves and equipment west to Cedar Run, where they secured a log house to live in until spring would come so they could locate a house to buy with farm to sustain the family. In March of 1883 they found 60 acres of land in Almira township, Benzie County, just 5 miles west of Cedar Run, in a small village called Oviatt. Only 4 acres of this land was cleared but it had a house and barn and spelled the proppect of a home. There was a post office, general store, a church, blacksmith shop, a school 1 mile north and another 1 mile south and a Gleaners Farmers organization had a building, the top story of which was used for social gatherings. There were neighbors close by who all helped each other in time of need. The women "born" the babies for each other, there being no doctor near, and the men exchanged "days works" with each other when needed. The land was heavily wooded and soon there was the cutting of trees and hauling them to Traverse City, then transported to far away markets. There was maple, beech, oak, elm, ash, basswood, pine, hemlock, spruce, cedar, walnut, hickory nut and many other woods used in building and manufacturing in the fast developing cities, for ships, railroads, etc. This great demand speeded up the violation of the mighty forests. Also the early settlers must have cleared land on which to grow food and grain and for pasture land. William bought a team of oxen, Tom and Jerry to help with clearing the land. Emma had an inheritance of $500.00 from the estate of her father David A. McBride which was used to purchase this land for their future home.

Finally the land was planted to wheat, oats, hay, potatoes, beans, orchards, gardens and pasture for cattle, horses and pigs. Every farmers wife had her garden poultry and dairy products, much of it to sell to buy back the things they needed. Meanwhile there were several years that food was hard to come by. It took time to raise it. They scouted the country side for fish, deer, small animals, and wild berries. Grandmother McBride Harms and Grandmother Brugh sent them dried fruits and nuts and vegetables from Indiana, most of it coming in cloth bags, tightly tied and tagged. This was a real treat each time a bag arrived. William saved four acres of woodland to be used for fuel for the long, cold winters and for cooking in the kitchen stove. In the Fall great fires were built under iron kettles in which were mmade apple-butter, corn was cooked for drying and water heated for the butchering of winter meats. Also water heated for the laundering of heavy clothing, bedding &c. There were "sugar maples" in the wood lot that were tapped in the Spring for maple syrup and sugar. They tell a story about the 1894 opening of the sugar bush and the several things that happendd on that day, March 4th. First, William discarded the old wooden buckets he had used for collecting sap, and went to nearby Lake Ann to buy new tin buckets. While there he bought a fine clock which they were still using at time of their deaths. At the barn there was a new baby colt named Lucy which was given to Glen for his own horse. At the house there was a new baby girl, named Hazel. Also that day Glen planted two willow sprouts at the end of the outdoor cellar and which grew into very tall trees in later years. At the sugar camp they built a tent of cedar boughs which was used to rest and keep warm during the long weary hours of evaporating sap. The fire was kept going 24 hours a day under the long metal pans that rested on a brick "Arch". Sap was brought from the trees on a horse drawn sled in barrels and the barrels set on a rise of brick to facilitate dripping the sap into the pans for boiling. Emma cooked food and brought out to the watchers. We boiled eggs in a small pan of sap. At a certain stage as the sap thickened into syrup it was taken to the house for "finishing off" into sugar which was made into little cakes, taken to Traverse City or Lake Ann, and could be sold for cash or traded for white sugar, pound for pound. Also we boiled syrup to the "taffy" stage which was swirled around on pans of snow and scooped off with forks to eat with the utmost enjoyment. At the end of the season, about three weeks, the equipment was cleaned, the tin buckets greased with lard to prevent rusting and stored until next year.

A great place of adventure was the outdoor, underground cellar. It was built with grout walls and a peaked, boarded ceiling which was covered with 2 to 3 feet of earth and walls and ceiling were whitewashed. It was kept immaculately clean. Rows of shelves were on each side and a path between. There were three rooms, one for pickles in barrells, sauerkraut in barrels, canned fruit, jellies and jams. In another was salt pork in barrels, smoked meat hanging from the ceiling, jars of mincemeat, sausage, etc. The milk cellar held crocks of milk with the cream rising, jars of butter, cottage cheese, lard in jars, sausages cooked and packed in jars with lard poured over them. In the vegetable bins were apples, potatoes, cabbages, carrotts, squashes, etc. Our salads in those days consisted of all kinds of pickles. There were always things to take to the Traverse City market to sell for cash or trade.

In the barn there would be baby colts, calves, pigs, chickens. William would come to the house to announce new arrivals and an expedition was immediately organized to view the animal offspring. The barn was always stocked with hay in the mows, and corn and oats in bins. A great place for children to play.

In the house projects were always under way; carpet rags to be sewn and woven into rugs and carpets, clothing to be sewn, mittens, sox and stockings to be knitted, quilts to be pieced and put together, straw ticks to be filled annyally, fruits and vegetables to be canned, preserved and dried.

William was a part of the political community from time to time, serving on jury at the county seat several times, acting as township treasurer an elective job. He also was pathmaster - something to do with maintainence of roads. Then people worked out their road tax instead of paying it in money. Emma too served in the community by responding to calls where there was sickness or death or both, and especially to help "born" a new baby.

Meantime, four more children came into this farm home; Ivy P. in 1884, Raymond A. in 1891, Hazel I. in 1894 and Daisy F. in 1897. Daisy was a premature baby - born in January. It was three months before she was dressed. Emma made what is now known as an incubator, out of a rocking chair, pillows, blankets and fruit jars filled with warm water placed around the baby to keep her warm. Emma sat up at night before the fire rubbing life into the little arms and legs. That baby still lives.

By the end of 1890's Nellie, the eldest who had been teaching school and was preparing to be married to a local young man found her hopes dashed when the young man, Frank Post, developed tuberculosis and died. That spring Grandmother McBride Harms came to visit from Indiana. She proposed to take Nellie back to Indiana with her to build up her spirits. There Nellie met Purd High a year later and married him. Glen, who had grown to young manhood married lovely Ella Brooks and left the home. Maude who went to Indiana to visit Nellie and assist with the birth of a new baby there, met Frank Putt and came back home for a few years. Their romance flourished however by correspondence and a visit to Oviatt by Frank, and time found her too living in Indiana married to Frank. Ivy married a local young man, Harry Pettingill, the only one of the family to have a wedding at home, and her wedding is well remembered with the relatives from both families attending and all the neighbors who came to partake of the solemnity and the fun and the good things to eat.

That left only Ray, Hazel and Daisy at home. Because of an injury William received in the woods, a broken leg, he was not able to follow the horses any more so he had to make other plans to earn a living. Emma too, had dreams of giving these last three children more advantages. Times were changing. Their world was growing larger. The time had come to make another move. William found a small farm planted to fruit, 2 miles from Traverse City. In 1906 this was our new home. The old home at Oviatt was sold leaving us only memories of conquering the land and sending four children as adults into the world to make their own homes and families. The small fruit farm did not produce what William felt it should, so he searched for a larger farm which he found 2 miles out of Traverse City on the peninsula. This too was largely fruit, and to it he added a small diary. By now, the three children at home were able to help themselves. There had been some musical training, some high school and some buisness college training. Ray went to the city to work and from there into World War 1 and when he returned he was married. Hazel worked as secretary-typist in Traverse City for several years and then married. Daisy went to Indiana to visit her sisters there, met and married Clarence Getts.

This left William and Emma alone. William did some selling and Emma did some home nursing. Both worked to nearly the end of their time. William died on November 6, 1926 and Emma died December 11, 1935. In looking back we children remembered that our parents talked much about their homes and families in Indiana. They were lonely for their own people, but kept them alive in memory often of their young lives and times. It took real courage to step out of their young lives and into the wilds of northern Michigan, raise a family and provide a good life here for all. They never looked backward except in memory.

Soft soap was also made in this big iron kettle with wood ashes in a barrel and water drained through to make the lye. Fat was tried out from pork scraps at butchering time in the Fall, ane mixed with the lye, boiled in the kettle. They made enough to last a year.

daughter Mary Latica

David A. McBride and Rachel S. Shatto

David A. McBride was born July 23, 1832 in Portage Co. Ohio. His parents were Richard McBride and Samantha Smith who were married May 15, 1823 Ravenna, Portage Co. Ohio. They moved to Smithfield Township, DeKalb County Indiana in the year 1847 to 1849.

Joel Thompson and his wife Maria Jane McBride (sister to David) made the trip to DeKalb County in 1847 the trip being made by team to Cleveland Ohio, thence to Toledo, Canal boat to Fort Wayne, Ind. and team to DeKalb County, Indiana, It is quite likely that David and Rachel and other members of their families came at this time.

David purchased land in DeKalb Co. as shown in Deed Book 1836 to 1860 Vol. K page 108 Auburn, Ind.

The members of the community started a Church they called the Cedar Lake Organization (Christian Church, Disciples) later named The Cedar Lake Church of Christ, Waterloo, Indiana and at this date is still in existenance but is Church of Christ. (Independent) Rachel, David and their parents were Charter members and Rachel wrote a history of the Church in 1909. Arginal on tablet paper is owned by Daisy Brugh Getts Grandaughter of Rachel.

David and Rachel had two children Emma Lavina born Jan. 30, 1855 and Mary Laticia born July 5, 1859.

David enlisted in the Union Army Oct. 22, 1862 and before he left for duty he and Rachel had their photos taken with Emma and Mary their children. They are in large oval frames and Daisy Brugh Getts has the orginals.

David was called to duty Nov. 16, 1862 at Indianapolis, Ind. and was a Private, Co. G. Fifty Fourth Regiment, Ind. under Captain Carter.

While in the service at Burnside Barracks Ind. near Indianapolis he wrote a letter to Rachel and told of conditions in his camp. This letter is dated Nov. 3, 1862 and is in possession of Lurah DeVae, greatgrandaughter.

Davids time in the service was short as he died of illness. Military records say "Disease". He died on board the boat Die Vernon (Dia Vernon) enroute from Memphis, to Cario, Illinois. Date of death varies in military record and it was Jan. 18 or 19, 1863. Several other soldiers died at this time and they were all buried at Mound City, Illinois in unmarked graves.

Joel Thompson, brother-in-law to David heard of Davids illness and went in search of him. He traced the location of the boat Dia Vernon which led him to Mound City, Ill. He had the body disintered and brought home for burial March 1, 1863 at Cedar Lake Cemetery, DeKalb Co. Ind. A detailed record of all this is in David's military record from the National Archives, Washington, D.C.

Rachel left a widow with two small children married Frederick Harmes (Harms) Dec. 20, 1864. He had four children by his first marriage, Joel Harmes, Alice Harmes, Angeline Harmes and Henry Harmes.

A daughter was born to Rachel and Frederick Harmes and named Eva known as Aunt Eva, and loved by all.

Mary Laticia died Sept. 19, 1867 and Rachel recorded the date on tablet paper.

According to the military papers John Shatto, grandfather to Emma was appointed her guardian but later Joel Thompson, her uncle was appointed. He kept the $500 safely for Emma that was paid for loss of her father in the Civil War. When Emma married William Brugh and later moved to Aviatt, Mich. in the fall of 1882 this $500 paid for their first home.

Rachel continued to be active in her community and church and raised Fredericks four children and Emma and Eva. She died Nov. 15, 1912 and is buried at Cedar Lake Cemetery, DeKalb Co. Ind.

Yesterday was Sunday and it was the first day we spent in the place and I will try to tell you how it was spent at 6 oclock we was awakened by canon and then had 15 minutes to dress and wash and get ready for roll call and after that we had breakfast an than drill an hour and then the rest of the day was spent in all manner of implayment but the majority of the men engaged in playing cards. I spent my time reading my

They were drafted men one of them was shot with two balls in the breast and died the next morning the other was alive the last I heard of them there was two recruiting officers got into a fight other Friday and one of them Struck the other with a knife in four places and let his guts out the last time he Struck him. The drafted men that did not volunteer is still in Camp Sullivan and I would rather be in a penitentary than there we have better fare and more of it and are comfortably situated. George Cassleman and Charles Triplett have gone into a Company of artillery and ____ ____ went with them John Brand and ____ Grice and Jacob Shoemaker have gone to the calavry; Mr ____ and Fail are well.

Copy verbatum on this form the information you find in the various records or books as you do your research. (You will find differences in records.) Make a separate sheet for each search or each name or family on your line found in a search. Then, after information has been extracted from all sources, you may easily make comparisons of statements, judge value of each, and record correct data on a permanent form such as A1, F1, F3 or F6. See The Sixth Edition THE HOW BOOK FOR GENEALOGISTS for additional suggestions regarding the use of this sheet.

CRIPE CEMETERY

Located on a small knoll, 100 feet west of Co. Rd. 29, a short distance north of Co. Rd. 34. (Fair Ground road). It was 110 feet by 120 feet in size, with 72 lots in the cemetery. This was founded on the Samuel Cripe farm. Only one large stone remains standing. All of the rest are lying on the ground and some are broken. Cattle have been allowed to pasture in this field for over 30 years. It was fenced in at one time, but this has been gone for many years. Copied in 1981 by Mr. & Mrs. David Cripe, who are Cripe descendants.

Dear Florian,

How interesting that at about the same time I was planning this note to you, you were preparing a note to me!

The stuff you sent was more interesting than you could know - especially the cemetery platting at Wright Cemetery! While you highlighted some of the Zimmer listings, those not highlighted are very interesting too. Amelia, 2-yr-old, would be, I think, a sister of my Delila and your Sara. Adam is that same generation, is in the picture of the family, died at age 25. And Jane Poulson is a sibling too. Howard was Jane's younger son, retarded. Joseph R. Becker was a son of John Peter William Becker and Mary Stoeckle (variously spelled, you'll note), therefore a half-brother of my grandfather Henry Becker. Now look at Row 12. All of those Stakeles are half-way related too.

I haven't talked to Myrtis since I received this but I think she has been to that cemetery, knew about the Stakele, but I'm not so sure she knew about the Zimmers right there.

It was a tough life for women in those days. That Mary Stoekle was married to John Peter William Becker 06 APR 1860, had babies 1862, 1864, 1866, 1867, 1869, 1870 and died eleven days after that last one, 30 AUG 1870. The next-to-last one lived only a couple months and the last one was stillborn. John Peter William Becker then married Sarah Jane Bloomfield on 27 MAR 1871 and they had five children, starting in 1872 - some lively household, I bet! My grandfather Henry Becker was the oldest of that last five.

Thank you very much for all of that. Next time I get to Indiana Myrtis and I will have to check that all out. She knows where the cemeteries are, even the one in Kendallville where one has to go through the parking lot of a factory to get to it.

Now as to why I was going to write you - Cripes. Do you have in your line a Noah Cripe who married a Lydia Ann Hamman? They were the parents of Mary Ellen Cripe who married Isaac Allen Mellinger. And they were the parents of George W. Mellinger who married Maude Anderson, my mother's sister. I think this family lived in Kosciusko County, Syracuse, IN, and Vawter Park. I have a cousin George Riddle, grandson of Maude and George, who is also into genealogy, is an actor who lives in NYC. So he is the one who gave me this information. And if these people are in your line, we are related on both my mother's and father's sides! Some of them are buried in McClintic Cemetery. Kosciusko County?

Yes, I would like a copy of that 1850 census re Shennaman. I have very little on her father Benjamin and mother Matilda, no birth dates or ages for Mary Margaret's siblings. The brother may have been blind which might show in that census if he was already born in 1850. I do have some information from that census but not the copy itself. Myrtis may have gotten what I do have from the Fort Wayne library.

There is a reunion in September, third Sunday I think, which we used to call the Zimmer reunion. When Zimmers no longer came from Ohio, I think it

Frank,

I'll be glad to do that, but it's rather complicated (I guess that's pretty common -- if you're related to the CRIPE line one way, it's usually at least one other way, too).

Just this past weekend, I was discussing that line with my son and his wife (she also has CRIPE ancestry!) and he asked me to chart it out for him, so it's fresh in my mind. I have been gathering info on this line for a good many years, so can't say where it all comes from -- numerous dedicated researchers. I still have plenty of "holes" that need to be filled, so I'd be delighted if others could provide additional information. And, since I haven't gone to courthouses, census records, and cemeteries for every single name included, it's quite possible there are some errors which need to be rectified.

I'm rather surprised that there is neither Mailing List nor Web Site devoted to this surname (one can find "pieces" of it on many, but not "the whole thing" in one nice easy spot). Even the RootsWeb Resource Cluster for CRIPE [http://resources.rootsweb.com/surnames/c/r/CRIPE/] is still just a "wide spot in the road" waiting for people to participate.

I presume you all know the story that one immigrant "ran away" from a bad situation in Germany by stowing away on a boat, etc. His name was Jacob GREIB, and he is the progenitor of very nearly all the CRIPEs in America. He had ten children, and I descend from two of them; my wife from four others. In addition, my daughter-in-law descends from three of them: one of mine, one of my wife's, and one additional one. Thus, my little four-month-old grand daughter has descent from seven of these CRIPE children.

I presume you also know that Annie Oakley of "Annie Get Your Gun" fame is a descendant of this original immigrant.

OK, here goes:

Dear Carolyn,

I am enclosing a sheet on the Cripe's. I have Samuel and Susannah Mikesell Cripe and their children. The children I have are Benjamin, John, Daniel, Susan, Polly, Emanuel, and Noah who married Rebecca Baker. How are you connected to them. I can't find an Aaron or an Alvin. Am I missing some children?

Your uncle Glenn was correct. Jacob did marry Elizabeth Ulrich

John Grieb married Elizabeth Rench

John was the eldest son of Jacob and Elizabeth Ulrich Greib. He was born in 1744 and died in 1814. In 1770, he married Elizabeth Rench, daughter of Joseph. They had 9 children. Joseph married Anna Kuns.

Elizabeth married George Kuns
Susannah " Christian Shively
John Jr. " Catharine Ulery
Catharine " Joseph Ulery
Esther " Samuel Ulery, Jacob Swinehart
Hannah " David Shively
Barbara " Isaac Ulery
Jacob C. " Mary Wyland

Mary Wyland was an ancestor of mine and that is how I got involved with the Cripes. There are several other connections also.

The father of Daniel seems to be a sure thing now. I have it from Don Bowman who never sends anything unless you could stake your life on it, and also Elkhart Co. Rec's support it. Daniel was an outstanding elder in the GBB or Dunkard church in Ohio and in Ind. by 1830. He was very well respected in church circles in Elkhart Co.

Can you send me the family from Samuel on down to you. I am very interested in continuing it thru to today if possible. Will pay for any copying costs or whatever. Would definitely like a copy of Samuel's will.

Jann Cripe, I believe will publish in the next year or two. Will write her and send your name to her.

I haven't done as much as I wanted to this year on geneology. My husband was out of a job for 10 months as his factory left town. So money was very tight. I just passed along what info I have already and received some new info, but didnt go searching any records at all. Then my grandfather died this spring and just yesterday, we buried my husband's brother, so have had an interesting year.

My husband has a job now, but he switches shifts, so the house is very confusing right now.

Any way, I think I am going to close and clean house some. It sure needs it bad!

Just let me know how much on the copying costs. Will surely appreciate anything you can send me.

Sincerely
Pam Shaffer

Also have your Samuel's brothers and sisters, if you would like them.

Here is how I am related to the Cripe family

Jacob C. Grieb, son of John & Elizabeth Rench Greib married Mary Magdalene Wyland d/o Peter Wineland in 1817 Ohio

Andrew Cripe s/o John B. and Susannah Ditmer Cripe married Mary Magdalene Wyland in 1856 Kos. Co.

Both Mary M's are related to me
Andrew's wife is my great, great, Aunt.

Mary, wife of Jacob, is a cousin of my gr. gr. gr. grandfather. I am trying to connect all the Wyland/Wineland lines together. Wish me luck!!

Dear Florian,

It takes a long time for me to respond. I have alibis. Like a couple of weeks in the hospital. Most of which wasn't necessary. Do you know that doctors charge the same for over-medicating you as they do for treating you properly? And it takes longer so there are more bills. And it takes quite a while after you get out of their clutches before you're worth anything?

Anyway, I'm doing well now (some days, other days fairly well) and have passed my 83rd birthday!

Claudine is having some of the memory problems of old age. However we are getting along OK.

Your March letter was interesting. It is my understanding that my grandfather, Jesse Huber died of "consumption" which probably translates to "pneumonia." He died a few weeks after my mother was born. (The family lost several sons to "Consumption." Do you know any decendents with bad lungs and bronchial areas?) As a result, my mother was raised by her grandparents, Christina and Christian Weaver. The story that I remember from my mother is that her mother married a Tommy Franks, They had a daughter, Mary(?) When mother was eight years old, Tommy Franks said she was old enough to work and they took her from her grandparents and she was raised in the Franks family from then on. Oh, Yes! The Weavers spoke "Pennsylvania Dutch." Mother learned English when she started to school. So much for special ESOL classes. And Dad took a couple of years of German while in High School. When they did not want us kids to know what they were talking about, Mother's Dutch and Dad's German overlapped enough for them to communicate and drive us kids crazy! It wasnt fair!

The story of the nearest I came to knowing Sarah Weaver was related to me by my sister, Velma. Sarah died while my mother was pregnant with me. Mother bathed and dressed her mother-in-law for burial. The neighbors were aghast. Doing this would "mark her baby." The neighbors may have been right, but if so, I have not suffered from it.

Going through some old pictures recently. I scanned and re-printed some of them. Enclosed is one of mother and dad taken probably a year or so before I was born. I think they look great! And then I found a little print with your mom and dad and a son. From the size of the son, I knew it had to be you. When enlarged, he surely had Robert's features. Somehow, I couldn't accept Robert as being that large. I'm including the snapshot that was enlareged

Your story of the Weavers and Neunswanders in 1745 is interesting. If it isn't too much trouble, I'd appreciate receiving a copy of it. As you can see, I have nothing more than you to connect Sara Weaver to any lengthy ancestry.

Claudine and I hope this finds you and yours well,

Love,

Samuel Cripe

Subject: John Stump

Hi Cousin Florian,

I have much the same information you have on John Stump. I do have his dob as 1/6/1790 possibly in Beaver Co. PA. However, I came across some other information that lists the date as 1797, so I'll need to do some more checking on that. He and Barbara were married on 12/31/1818 in Beaver Co. PA. From family notes I have his father also as a John born in US and married to Elizabeth. But that is all I have on them. Then the family notes mention that his father is also a John and was born in Germany. Barbara's (6/12/1801 Fredrick, MD or PA- 3/12/1864 Noble Co. IN) parents are John Summers Jr. (9/6/1752 at sea-11/6/1838/39) He was married to Elizabeth Snyder (poss. 1756 Manheim Twp. PA-1815/17) in 1773 in Manheim , PA. John Summers Jr.'s parents were John Summers Sr. (SW-4/1773 Manheim Twp. PA) and Catherine "Kitty". Basically that's all I have. Do you have any other information or any conflicting information?

It's great to find another Stump relative! Levi was my line from John and Barbara. Then another John another Levi and then my mother Pauline Stump Button. We still have the land that my great grandfather homesteaded near Miami, TX. Harl Stump, Charles Forman, Harold Williams and Jan Tompkins are also researching this line and are also on the internet, but we all have similar information by now.

Thanks for the e-mail. Diane

Samuel Cripe was born in 1799 in Hamilton County, Ohio. His first wife was Esther Cripe, born in 1799 in Huntingdon County, Pennsylvania. Three sons were born to them. Esther died in 1823 and was buried in Montgomery County, Ohio.

Samuel's second wife was Susannah Mikesell, who was born in Montgomery County, Ohio in 1804. She was the daughter of Joseph and Catherine Cripe Mikesell. Fourteen children were born from this union.

Samuel came to Elkhart County, Indiana in 1829 and purchased a tract of timberland near Goshen, Indiana. He also secured land from the Government, enabling him to give eighty acre tracts to each of his seventeen children. In Samuel's last will and testament dated March 31, 1862 he provided for his wife Susanna. Samuel died in 1862 and Susan in 1882. Both are buried in West Goshen Cemetery.

Jacob Grieb lived in Germany near the sea. According to oral tradition, Jacob, a cooper by trade, may have killed a college student who slipped into his shop through a narrow opening. As a cooper, he had a long, heavy knife with a cord attached. He usually threw this knife into whichever pole he wanted for making hoops and pulled it to him. He threw his knife and may have killed a student.

The ship, Brigantine Richard and Elizabeth was sailing for America and he slipped aboard unnoticed until the ship was at sea. He arrived in America on September 28, 1733, at the age of 21. Jacob married a German woman, Elizabeth Ulrich and had a family. It is likely that Jacob heard the preaching of the Dunkers who stressed "Thou Shall Not Kill". Perhaps his conscience troubled him and he sought pardon by entering the church.

In 1765, Jacob and his family joined the settlement of Dunkards at Franktown, Pennsylvania (seven miles southwest of Altoona, Pa) Jacob had 150 acres in Lancaster Co. Pa. in 1743 and by 1776 had 700 acres in Bedford County, Franktown Township, Pa. After the American Revolution the land around Franktown became higher priced. The Dunkards moved to the rich, level woods of Ohio, settling in the Miami Valley , west and north of Dayton, Ohio during 1798-1800. Jacob did not move to Ohio but died in Pennsylvania in 1801. The original will was translated from German into English by L.W. Shultz.

Daniel Cripe was born May 6, 1772 in Altoona, Pennsylvania. In the spring of 1830, he acquired land on the Elkhart Prairie, two miles south of Goshen, Indiana. There he built a cabin. He returned to Montgomery County, Ohio to persuade his family to come to St. Joseph County, Indiana. Among those to accompany him were his son, Samuel and family, Martin Weybright and family, and Jacob Studebaker and family. With the help of neighbors, Daniel constructed a plow with a wooden mouldboard. Tradition states he was the first settler to plow a furrow on the Elkhart Prairie.

Daniel began to preach to pioneer families preaching in German. The Elkhart Church was organized in 1830 and located just southwest of Goshen. Daniel Cripe was the first elder and minister. Daniel died December 10, 1859 and Magdalena on May 25, 1842. Their bodies were moved to the West Goshen Cemetery on May 28, 1961.

Haplogroup Origin

Principally a European haplogroup, haplogroup I is detected at very low frequency across west Eurasia with slightly greater representation in northern and western Europe. Given its wide, but sparse, distribution, it is likely that it was present in those populations that first colonized Europe. This hypothesis is supported by the estimate its age—approximately 30,000 years.

Understanding Your mtDNA Results

You have had your mitochondrial DNA analyzed by Family Tree DNA. The results represent your actual DNA sequence's differences from the Cambridge Reference Sequence (CRS) and are listed on your certificate.

Human mitochondrial DNA (mtDNA) has distinct properties that make it an invaluable tool for genealogical and anthropological study. For example, mtDNA is inherited only from the mother. As a result, the study of mtDNA is essentially the study of female genetic lines within human populations. Mutations, when they occur, are passed from mother to child. As more mutations occur over time, they accumulate in a linear or chronological manner, allowing scientists to study these changes. Using proper documentation and historical data, these mutations can also be associated with geographic areas and populations. With this information, researchers have constructed ancient migration patterns based on the presence of these mutations in human populations.

Mitochondria are present in all human cells and contain their own DNA. Both males and females have this mtDNA, but only females pass it on to their offspring. Therefore, mtDNA is passed from mother to daughter along the female line without any influence from fathers.

The chart below illustrates how mtDNA is inherited from each grandparent. The two entries in black represent mtDNA from outside the maternal lines displayed here—in this case, the uncle's spouse.

MtDNA analysis is performed by looking for both similarities and differences among individuals. We test 569 base pairs, including the entire HVR-1 area, (HyperVariable Region 1), and 574 base pairs, including the entire HVR-2 area. These are used for genealogical and genetic analysis. A base pair is a specific component of the DNA and is made of adenine (A) and guanine (G) or cytosine (C) and thymine (T). Therefore, our report will express your results as a series of letters representing the bases specifically found in your HVR-1 and HVR-2 regions. The HVR-1 and HVR-2 areas are used because mutations occur more frequently in these regions and therefore they can differentiate specific lineages more easily.

MtDNA results are commonly compared to the CRS, the industry standard which was sequenced in 1981. Any place in your mtDNA where you have a difference from the CRS is characterized as a mutation. If your results show no mutations at all it means you match the CRS. A mutation happens when (a) one base is replaced by a different base, (b) a base is inserted between two bases without replacing any, or (c) a base is removed from a position without being replaced. We provide you with more details and examples on page 3.

Your analysis highlights these differences and may be compared to other individuals' results. Our database is helpful in finding other individuals with exactly the same mtDNA. This exact duplication of the mtDNA means two individuals shared a common female ancestor. Research over the last decade suggests that all the maternal lines ultimately originate from "Mitochondrial Eve" approximately 140,000 years ago in Africa. Further details may be reviewed in the journal Nature Genetics, November 2000; in Science, November 2000 or in our library at www.familytreedna.com/mtdna-papers.aspx .

We compare your specific sequence to other people in our database of mtDNA results. If we find someone who has the exact changes within their sequence as you do and you have signed the Family Tree DNA release form, we will inform both of you by email. In this way we are able to link you up with your "genetic cousins." However, despite the fact that the HVR-1 and HVR-2 regions experience mutations more frequently, the mutations do not occur often enough for us to determine whether two individuals are very closely related. A high resolution match with both HVR-1 and HVR-2 gives you a higher probability of finding a common ancestor in your family tree, but can still detect common ancestry from over 700 years ago. Once you contact the people you match, you may then employ conventional genealogical techniques to see if you can find where that person might fit on your family tree!

Another feature offered exclusively to our customers is our Recent Ancestral Origins (RAO) database. This database is only available through your personal page.

Mitosearch is a public database we have created to aid genealogists who want to compare their results with other individuals worldwide, regardless of the company they tested with. Now that you have your results you may wish to add them to mitosearch at www.mitosearch.org. You can also upload your GEDCOM file to www.mitosearch.org.

How to read your mtDNA certificate:

Your mutations from the CRS are displayed under your "mtDNA Results" section and on your certificate. Below your individual mutations you will notice six rows with ten columns each. This is the HVR-1 CRS, with which all samples are compared. Begin reading at the upper left and continue to the end at the lower right.

Where you have numbers under your name, this indicates that you have a mutation from the CRS at that particular point. The letters represent the new code found at that place in the sequence. For example, the letter "C" in position 16154 means that at the 16154th base pair, you have a "C" in place of the "T" listed for that position in the Cambridge sequence. A position like this that shows variation is called a polymorphism, or mutation.

In some cases you will see insertions in your mtDNA sequence. If you have an insertion after base pair 255, for example, the insertion will be listed as the base pair and .1C. In this case, a single base pair insertion has been found in your mtDNA string, noted by the .1. The nucleotide changed to cytosine (C) from guanine (G), therefore denoted with a C. The insertion then looks like this: 255.1C. If you have a 2 base pair insertion the results might look like this: 255.1C 255.2T

It is also possible that you have a deletion; a base pair was not copied and you just don't have a base pair at that particular place in your sequence. For example, "424 –" means that this location, 424, isn't in your sequence and is represented by a minus sign at the site where the nucleotide base should have been found.

Your Haplogroup

Your haplogroup, or genetic population group based on your differences from the CRS, was determined through this testing. Haplogroups are defined by specific mutations which took place tens of thousands of years ago and have been passed down to all of today's populations. Your haplogroup identifies your deep ancestral ethnic and geographic origins on your maternal line. The world map labels the general regions in which your haplogroup can be found. We also use arrows to indicate how the haplogroups are connected with one another. You can find a description of your haplogroup in the "mtDNA Results" section of your personal page.

Useful terms to know:

Base pair: The DNA bases are always held together in pairs and attached to one of the strands in the DNA double helix. The order of bases is the sequence of DNA.

CRS (Cambridge Reference Sequence): The mitochondrion sequenced in 1981 became known as the Cambridge Reference Sequence (CRS) and has been used as a basis for comparison with your mtDNA. In other words, any place in your mtDNA where you have a difference from the CRS is characterized as a difference or mutation.

Deletion: A deletion takes place when a base pair is removed from the sequence.

DNA (deoxyribonucleic acid): Known by many as the structure of heredity, DNA is a chemical consisting of a sequence of hundreds of millions of nucleotides found in the nucleus of cells. It contains the genetic information about an individual and is shaped like a double-stranded helix.

Gene: the functional and physical unit of heredity passed from parent to offspring.

Haplogroup: branches in the human genetic tree (Phylogenetic tree). They are tied to deep ancestry (think 10,000 or 10s of 1000s of years).

HVR1 and HVR2 (HyperVariable Region 1 and 2): The two sections or regions of the mtDNA which are tested in the mtDNAPlus test. The results can be used to determine a person's ethnic and geographic origins, as well as to look for possible common ancestry with other individuals.

Insertion: An insertion takes place when a base pair is added to the sequence.

mtDNA (mitochondrial DNA): The genetic material found in mitochondria. mtDNA is passed down from females to both son and daughter, but sons do not pass down their mother's mtDNA.

Mutation: A heritable change that may occur in a gene or in a chromosome and may take the form of a chemical rearrangement or a partial loss or gain of genetic material.

Polymorphism: A mutation, or change, in the DNA sequence which is inheritable.

Background

Eichsfeld is a historical region in the center of modern-day Germany, lying east of Göttingen and Kassel. The name Eichsfeld may be derived from "Eichenf

The rivers Wipper and Leine divide the region into two areas of unequal size, the larger Obereichsfeld (Upper Eichsfeld) to the south and the smaller Unte

Eichsfeld was first mentioned in 897 A.D. In the 10th century the Archbishopric of Mainz acquired its first lands in Eichsfeld. In the 16th century the whole

The Thirty Years' War reached Eichsfeld in 1622 and during the years following several armies (Swedish, Danish, Thuringian) plundered the region. Accorc Westphalia in 1648 the Archbishopric of Mainz reestablished Catholicism in the area which was two thirds devastated and had lost 75% of its population.

Eichsfeld remained part of the Archbishopric of Mainz until 1803 where it was a Catholic enclave in the predominantly Protestant north of Germany. With the

Today in a reunified Germany, the Untereichsfeld is part of Niedersachsen (Lower Saxony) and and the Obereichsfeld is part of Thüringen (Thuringia). The

In Switzerland, there are 32 mountain peaks above 4000m (that's about 13,000ft), the highest of which is Dufourspitze.

About Your Region
Your ethnicity points to Central Europe, a broad expanse stretching from Amsterdam's sea-level metropolis to the majestic peaks of the Alps. Geographically dominated by France in the west and Germany in the east, it is a patchwork of nations with distinct cultural identities. From Munich's boisterous beer gardens, to Bordeaux's sun-soaked vineyards, to Switzerland's alpine dairy farms, it is a land of charming cultural diversity.

In a very simplistic sense, the region can historically be divided into two parts: France and The Holy Roman Empire, which roughly covered what is now Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Belgium, the Netherlands, Liechtenstein, Slovenia, and the Czech Republic. Not to be confused with the ancient Roman Empire, the Holy Roman Empire was formed after the old emperors moved east to Constantinople, leaving the western empire to be overrun by Germanic invaders including the Goths, Vandals, and Franks. Left behind in Rome, the pope crowned the Frankish king, Charlemagne, emperor, laying the foundation of a new empire that would last until the 19th century.

The Middle Ages and pre-modern era of the region was characterized by nearly incessant fighting, as nations drifted in and out of alliances and struggled with one another over the thrones of Europe. The 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries saw waves of revolution sweep through the nations. The power of the monarchs was stripped away as the region moved, in fits and starts, toward democracy. It was hardly a smooth transition however, as failed republics gave rise to authoritarian dictators and would-be emperors like Napoleon Bonaparte and Adolf Hitler. The World Wars, fought over politics, nationalist identities, and imperial aspirations, were really more of the same for the region, just on a global scale.

Despite the regular upheavals in this historically war-torn region, it has made great contributions to the worlds of science and art. Gutenberg brought the printed word to the masses; Kepler, Planck, and Einstein each revolutionized our understanding of the world; and visionaries like Mozart, Beethoven, Rembrandt, Monet, and Van Gogh left their own indelible marks in the history of art.

Migrations into this region
The major migration into central Europe is arguably the Neolithic expansion of farmers who came from the Near East. From about 8,000 to 6,000 years ago these farmers filtered in through Turkey and brought with them wheat, cows and pigs. Their population growth was particularly dramatic in central Europe, likely three-fold faster than the earlier inhabitants. The rise of the Vikings was another incursion into Central Europe, though these invaders came from the north, (e.g. Denmark, Sweden). However, the Vikings appear to have been reluctant to settle in central Europe possibly due to already dense populations living there and mostly marauded coastal communities. One exception is the region of Normandy in France; the word for Normandy derives from the meaning "north-man".

Migrations from this region
Although "Celtic" is often associated with the people of Ireland and Scotland, the Celts originated in central Europe more than 2,500 years ago. From an epicenter in Austria, the Celts spread through France, into Spain and Northern Italy. With their successful iron technology, the Celts even came to culturally dominate much of Britain and Ireland. Continental Celtic culture was eventually dismantled during the Roman Empire, but outposts of Celtic people and their languages remained in the British Isles.

Disclaimer

The Population Finder program uses cutting edge science and users should expect changes as the science advances. Please refer to our FAQ's to help answer questions.

Most Population Finder results are clear and unambiguous, but a small percentage of results may fall into one of the two categories below.

What if the total percent does not add up to 100%?

A very small amount of your DNA matches other populations. The amount of matching DNA is too small to report the matching population with confidence because the similarity with your DNA may be coincidental and falls well within the margin of error. More info.

What does it mean if the error is very high?

If you have a high margin of error (Example: +/-15%) then the populations you are matching are very similar to one another. In this case, we cannot distinguish as clearly between the populations, and we are less confident that some proportion of your DNA came from one population rather than the other. This does not affect our ability to predict the continent you are from, but does affect our prediction of what proportion of your ancestry is from the continents listed. More info.

SWIMMING POOL AT LIND, WA. 6-25
WHERE DOTTIE & FLORIAN LEARNED TO SWIM

The first seven pages are a copy of a paper Florian used for a class about 1956 or 1957. The information was given to him by his Uncle Glenn and Grandfather Alvin B. Cripe. Pages 8,9,and 10 are a copy of the will of Alvin's grandfather. (He told us, by the way, that Tobias did not do at all well by his mother in spite of Samuel's clear instructions).

The will of Jacob Sr. indicates that he married Elizabeth Ulrich and had Jacob Jr., John, Daniel, Samuel, Elizabeth, Catharine, Hanna and possibly 2 daughters deceased as there were substantial bequests to Christian Shively and John Wise - and maybe another daughter named Easter?

We don't know which of the four sons was our Daniel's father. Daniel(1772 - 1859) married Magdalena Miller (1770 - 1842). They lie in the West Goshen cemetery where a historical group has provided them with a new gravestone reading:

"Elder Daniel Cripe was the first Brethren Minister and father of the Brethren Churches of Northern Indiana. He established his new home in 1829 on the site of Goshen College after moving from near Dayton, Ohio.

"After constructing a wooden plow, tradition says he was the first white settler to plow a furrow on the Elkhart prairie".

According to Gramp, with Daniel and Magdalena came his brother Jacob and his wife plus children, in-laws and grandchildren of each. The first burial in this new settlement was that of a child, possibly Daniel's grandchild, a Lehman or Layman baby who had not been able to withstand the rigors of the trip. Jacob gave a hillside to be the new community's cemetery.

Daniel's and Magdalena's children are: Emanuel, John, Pollie, David, Samuel, Benjamin, Elizabeth, Susan and Cathrine.

Samuel had two wives: Esther Cripe and Susan Mikesell. I don't know exactly which children belong to which mother, but I believe that Aaron and all children listed after him in Samuels will are Susan's children. There were Benjamin, Kathryn, David, Magdaline, Jacob, Joseph, Aaron, Emanuel, Fannie, Levi, Noah, Pollie, Susan, Solomon, Elizabeth, Tobias.

Aaron, who died March 5, 1906, aged 71 yrs., 6 mos., was married to Sarah Weaver, who died Nov. 12, 1917, aged 79 yrs, 5 months. Their children are: Israel, Susan, Emanuel, Joseph, Melvin, Alvin, Edward, Emma, Amanda, Samuel, Sylvanus.

Alvin B. Cripe, born Jan. 1, 1879, died May 1970, married Leona Huber, born Aug. 19, 1882, died June 10, 1939. Their children are Glenn, Frederick Florian, Virgil, Velma, Jesse. I'm sorry to be short of names and dates for people I've known, but I'll do the best I can.

THE GENEOLOGY OF FLORIAN CRIPE

The origins of my family are uncertain. It is believed that the first of my ancestors in America was Jacob Gripe, Sr. The name later came to be Cripe. A Gripe family is mentioned as being in the Little Conewago Congregation in 1738. This name did not appear in the list of members in 1770 so the family had evidently moved, as the history indicates. There is no mention of a Gripe in the port annals of Philadelphia although it is believed that he landed there.

The legend of his coming to America is as follows. Jacob Gripe, Sr. was a copper in Germany. He had a little hut at the edge of a forest, where he could gather material for his barrels. But also near at hand was a military camp. Jacob was a young fellow and the young cadets harrassed him to no end about his not joining their ranks.

One night when they had had a few too many, the cadets came over to Jacob's log hut which was also his shop. Jacob could hear their boistrous approach and quickly threw the bar that locked the heavy door. The cadets, not to be stopped by such a maneuver, went around to the back and proceeded to tear one of the logs in the wall away. But Jacob was waiting for them. In the preparing of the wood, huge vats of hot water were used. This made the wood split along the grain instead in whatever fashion they might choose. Since this water was hot, a wooden pole with a spike in the end and a rope on the other was used to haul the logs out of the vats. There Jacob waited, pole in hand. Whenever any would attempt to enter, Jacob was there with his pole. Soon the pile of bodies inside and out began to grow. The cadets left to get reinforcements. Jacob took advantage of the exit of his more vigorous antagonists, gathering up his belongings and fleeing while the time was ripe. He made his way to the coast where he stowed-away on a boat bound for Philadelphia. Hence the arrival of the first Gripe or Cripe to America. It is interesting to note that in his will Jacob Gripe, Sr. leaves his cooper's tools to his son Samuel.

We do not know who the father of Daniel Cripe was. This is the Daniel Cripe who came to northern Indiana. We suppose he is the grandson of Jacob Gripe, Sr.. Daniel was born in 1772 in Frankstown, Penna.. In the U. S. Census for 1790 there are four Gripes listed in Bedford County. They were Daniel, John, Jacob, and Samuel. These are households and not just families. This Jacob is Jacob, Jr. There is only one household that listed a male (a free white male) other than the head of the house who was sixteen years or older. This was the household of John. This extra male is considered to be Jacob, Sr. rather than Daniel (who would then be 18) since it states in the will of Jacob Gripe, Sr. dated June 4, 1779, and probated 1802 that he was living with John: "where John and I live". Daniel might have been living with some other househole that did not bear the name of Gripe, hence he is not listed in these Gripes in the census of 1790. It could also be that he had left home and was out of the area. The reason we do not hold the Daniel listed as a son of Jacob, Sr. as being the Daniel who came to Indiana is that there are four free white males under sixteen and four females listed in the household in this census of 1790. This would be quite a family for a boy of 18.

We do not find any Gripes listed in the church records in Eastern Pennsylvania in 1770. This is probably because the family had already moved to middle Pennsylvania by this time.

Daniel moved from Pennsylvania to Maryland, to Kentucky, to Ohio, to Indiana. We don't know exactly when Daniel left Penn.. There is a legend that he was companion to Daniel Boone, but Boone is 38 years older than Daniel Gripe. By the time Daniel would have been big enough to leave home, Boone would have been getting up in years.

We do know that Daniel Cripe was in Southern Ohio in 1805 when the Wolf Creek church was started. He left there in 1830 and settled down in the Elkart prarie, establishing the Elkart Valley church which is today the West Goshen Church of the Brethren. From this church has sprang some sixteen churches in Northern Indiana.

From there on the history of my line is not so impressive, except for the size of the families. Daniel had at least nine children living at the time of the making of his will in 1862. His son Samuel had 17 children. Samuel's son Aaron had eleven children. From there down the number of offspring dwindle to five and four in the respective generations that follow, I being one of four children, three now living.

Mr. Glenn A. Cripe
Goshen, Indiana

Dear Sir:

Upon receipt of your letter of July 23rd with remittance, I engaged off and on to search my records for information on your family and was about to report that the only reference to your ancestors was the military services during the Revolutionary War of Johm Crips, when I came across the name Gripe which I have been able to identify as the spelling of your family name during their residence in Blair County, Pennsylvania.

Daniel, Jacob, Sr., and Jacob, Jr., Gripe were first assessed in Frankstown Township, Bedford County, (now Blair County) in the year 1776. The assessment for the year 1777 and 1778 does not contain their names but in 1779 the appear. Daniel is assessed with 50 acres cleared land and in 1785 with 2 horses and a cow additional. Jacob, Sr., is assessed with 200 acres in 1779, 1100 in 1780 and in 1781 and 1782 with 900 acres but as a nonresident. Jacob, Jr., is assessed with 50 acres in 1779, 1780, and 1781.

A John Gripe is first assessed with 300 acres, 3 cows and 3 horses in 1785. A Samuel Gripe is first assessed with 100 acres, 2 horses and 2 cows in 1785. Huntingdon County was formed from Bedford County in 1787 and the names continue on the assessment records of Frankstown Township, Huntingdon County, for a few years and then the name gradually disappears, indicating that the family had followed the westward movement.

The 1790 U. S. Census for Pennsylvania shows four families named Gripe residing in Humtingdon County (Now Blair County) as follows;

	Free white males of 16 years, and upwards, Including heads of family	Free white males under 16 years	Females
Daniel	1	4	4
Jacob	1	2	1
John	2	1	7
Samuel	1	4	1

I am unable to determine which of the above was your ancestor, but it would appear that the father of Daniel who was born May 6, 1772, would be John, as John's family is the only one who had a male upward of 16 years. This is a supposition but is is worth following through.

John Gripe continues on the assessment list of Frankstown Township with 300 acres, 2 horses and up to 7 cows for the years 1787 to 1806 inclusive, after which I do not have a complete record or the family moved. By 1810 the name does not appear as a resident of this area.

Am unable to find any headstone inscriptions, nor any marriages, so can give you nothing further. When I am in Huntingdon and Bedford again I will look for Wills and Deeds.

Have examined a number of records of counties east of here but unable to locate any records indicating where they came from.

The Revolutionary War services of John Crips is found in Vol. II, Fifth Series, page 20, as a Private in Capt. Robert Cluggage's Company, Col. Thompson's Rifle Battalion, 2nd Penna. Regiment, Continental Line, recruited in Bedford County, June 1775, and marched to Boston by August 8, 1775. Penna. Archives.

A John Crips appears as a Private in Col. Burd's Company, Jan. 15, 1760 to Sept. 15, 1760, during the French and Indian Wars. Vol. I, Page 30g, Fifth Series, Penna. Archives.

Will be glad to hear from you and to receive more information on the descendents as I am searching for material on early families of this region for a publication at some future date. The Jones' JUNIATA VALLEY book listed in my catalogue is an excellent story of the pioneer days. Your family is mentioned on page 435 as residents. This is the book that is being published daily in the Altoona Mirror.

Sincerely yours,

Floyd G. Hoenstine

Mr. Glenn A. Cripe
Goshen, Indiana

Dear Sir;

I am now able to report further on my search for data on your ancestors while residents in this area, as I have visited the Court Houses at Huntingdon and Bedford.

The Will of Jacob Gripe, dated June 4, 1779 and probated, May 20, 1802, is recorded at Huntingdon, in Vol. 1, Page 195.
It mentions a son Jacob who is to receive 300 pounds
Two daughters of my daughter Elizabeth to have 100 acres.
Christian Shively to have 200 acres.
John Wise to have 150 Acres.
Daughter, Catharine, to have 100 Acres where John and I live and to pay Easter 30 pounds.
Son, Daniel to have 100 Acres and to pay Easter 30 pounds.
Daughter, Hanna, to have 100 Acres and pay Easter 30 pounds.
Son, Samuel, to have remainder of land and pay Easter 30 pounds.
Wife, Elizabeth, born Ulrich, to have right to one-half of Samuel's land.
Samuel to have the horses, cooper's tools, plough, hoes and axes.

John Ullery and David Ullery were witnesses to the hand writinf and signed their names in German as Ulrich.

At Bedford I found a deed, dated Oct. 13, 1786, whereby John Gripe, of Frankstown Township, sold or mortgages 500 acres of land in Frankstown Township, Bedford County to Thomas Weems of Mountjoy Township, York, Pa.

I also found land transaction at Huntingdon, dated April 22, 1807, where John Gripe and his wife Elizabeth, sold land to Samuel Yount, for 2450 pounds, which I presume to be the sale of their real estate, including building prior to moving Westward.

Referring to the 1790 Census record which I forwarded you in my previous letter, I am of the opinion that the male of 16 and upwards who was residing with John Gripe was his father, Jacob Gripe,Sr. and not your ancestor Daniel born May 6, 1772. This is evident from the Will which states that Jacob, Sr., was living with his son John.

Your ancestor Daniel, born May 6, 1772, is not a son of Jacob, Sr., who died in 1802, but a grandson and it is impossible, from the data at hand, to determine who Daniel's father was. He does no appear in the Census record in the families of Jacob, Jr., Daniel, John, or Samuel as in 1790 he would be 18 years of age and could possibly be included in some other family, such as a sister's where he man have been making his home or working.

If you desire to continue the search for the data on your family I would suggest that the 1800 Census for Frankstown Township, Huntingdon County, and the 1850 census for such district in which your ancestors Daniel, Samuel and Aaron resided, be copied from the Census records at Washington, D. C. Am enclosing the mame of Rev. Laurence R. Cuthrie, whose ancestors also resided in this area and who will make this search for a small charge.

Will be glad to hear from you should you desire copies of Will, Deeds of other verifications,

Sincerely yours,

Floyd G. Hoenstine
